Beacon Press

A nonprofit publishing house dedicated to responsible exploration of the human condition through books

Founded in 1854

Operated under the auspices of the Unitarian Universalist Association

Publishing primarily in the humanities, the social sciences, and liberal religion

A pioneer in the development of the scholarly paperback for college use

Committed to a bold program of controversial social and political publishing, assuring a forum for responsible points of view often neglected by the commercial press

Nonfiction manuscripts from new authors are especially welcomed
